Interests

Illustration – I run a small art Twitter account with about 150 followers. I also do illustration that I don't post online and only share with friends. I also did the background illustration and developmental work of As the Crow Flies, a short film shown at the Clonmel Junction Arts festival.

Video editing – I do video editing in Premiere Pro in my free time, I've edited together compilations of content creators I like and of gameplay I've recorded on my own. I was the video editor in a group of four during secondary school, taking part in the Irish Angus Beef Competition, where we made it to the finals.

Games – I play video games and card games, I attend the games society at college frequently.
